

Two generations of Photographers:

Richard and Pam Taylor both began their professional careers at young ages at the beginning of the 1950s. Following a seven year apprenticeship they became the most prolific and sought after social photographers in the Folkestone area. They operated professionally during the whole of their lifetimes.

Their son Richard, having grown up with Photography around him, continues to take photographs in the traditional family manner.

Operating primarily with the highest quality classic equipment and materials in order to maintain that certain "feel & atmosphere" that can only truly be attained by such methods.

Photographs shown represent a tiny cross-section of material past and present from the family archive and copyright is retained therein.

Many more photos are currently available for perusal at: www.Photographyinmyblood.com.

Richard Taylor Photography

www.Photographyinmyblood.com

© Richard Taylor
Tel: +44 (0)1303 259510
Email: Info@Photographyinmyblood.com

Two generations of quality photographs